

CLAIMS

What is claimed is:

1. A remote diagnostic system for testing and diagnosing a control network,
5 comprising:
a computerized diagnostic device;
a wireless linking device connected to the control network; and a wireless intermediary device connected to the computerized diagnostic device, the wireless intermediary device providing a wireless communication link between the 10 computerized diagnostic device and the wireless linking device connected to the control network.